Nature's 4 Elements of Love

Savannah Skye (http://www.geocities.com/savvy1007)

Love is and is made from nature's 4 elements of love that make up all the essentials in life

The 4 elements of love that intertwine our beings divine within the beating heart of the universal infinite

The 4 elements of love that make us... from the tops of our heads to the tips of our toes to the beating of our hearts to our hands that give love

So I call from Gaia the 4 elements of love into me...

Earth - the element coming from the North Earth as my Body - become me

Earth is our universal home For She sustains, supports, and provides nourishment for us all

Earth is where we were born Earth is where we will live Earth is where we will die

Earth is the source that all life comes from and that all life will return to - ashes to ashes and dust to dust

When you stand upon Mother Earth, let your soul move through the center of your feet to entangle once again with the roots of all earth's life

My Body as Earth - Let Me become You...

Air - the element coming from the East

Air as my Breath - breathe me in Air is the movement, space and the medium of communication between all life

Air is under and around our starry skies, and inbetween the essential ethers that we breathe

Air tells us the secrets of the earth... if we silence our minds enough we can hear them

Air is what we should all be like to each other - that giving and that essential

When you let air blow through your heart freely you feel true love for all

My Breath as Air - Let me breathe you in...

Fire - the element coming from the South Fire as my Spirit - consume me

Fire as Sun heats the Earth, warms our hearts and homes

Fire as energy, is the light, the heat and that which creates our vital inner force that we all need for soul survival

Fire is the energy that enables our spiritual growth

Fire is the inner passion that moves us all to seek and find love in all

When you let fire consume your being, your soul becomes one with all

My Spirit as Fire - Let Me consume You...

Water - the element coming from the West Water as my Blood - flow thru me

Water is the ebb and flow within us in accordance to the lunar cycles

Water is the liquid of love that flows from Her veins of life into our veins of life

Water is life's blood that connects all life and flows thru all life

Water is the universal solvent that... connects us all flows thru us all and... dissolves us all all into one

When you lay over water and water lays over you, you once again become whole - mind, body and soul...

My Blood as Water - Let Me flow thru You...

For these 4 elements of love come from the primal source above and connect us all as one universal being of love within this infinite universe of love

For these 4 elements of love take us all Take us all thru Mother Gaia's 4 seasonal calls
- Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall
